DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “electrical control box” (claim 3) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3654

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is vague and indefinite. It is unclear as to whether or not the second end of the flex plate is attached to the mounting plate because of the use of "may be".

Claim 4 is vague and indefinite. It is unclear as to what is meant by "comprising a possible separate module...". Is the "separate module" being required or not?

With respect to claim 9, line 2, "said support plate" lacks positive antecedent basis in the claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent no. 3,861,126 to Morrison.

With respect to claims 1 and 5-7, Morrison discloses a mounting plate (6) having a first end and second end; a flex plate (26) having a first end and second end and made of flexible steel, the second end may be attached to the mounting plate, whereby the flex plate can flex with respect to the mounting plate, a guide plate (30) having a first end and second end, the second end (at 31) of the guide plate being mounted to the first end (at 32) of the mounting plate by a hinged connection (via 33), whereby the guide plate can pivot with respect to the mounting plate from an angle of approximately 90 degrees to an angle such that the desired orientation is achieved during operation, a cable guide (folded portion at opposite end of 31) securely attached to the first end of the guide plate, a shackle (9) for securely attaching the second end of the mounting plate to a fixed object.

With respect to claim 8, the winch is attached to the mounting plate by means of a plurality of bolts (23).

With respect to claim 9, the means for attaching the second end of the support plate to the mounting plate is a plurality of bolts (33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Morrison in view of US Patent no. 5,738,340 to Brantner.

Morrison is advanced above. Morrison does not teach an electrically powered winch. Brantner teaches a device adapted to receive a cordless electrical drill for rotation of the drum or the drum may be secured to an electric motor for imparting rotation of the drum. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide Morrison with an electrically powered winch so that rotation of the drum is accomplished with little to no effort on the part of the user.

Art Unit: 3654

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3 and 4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
